About Dr Erin Oliver

Dr Erin Oliver joins Smile Solutions from the United Kingdom, where she completed her dental training and developed her clinical skills across a broad range of general and restorative dental treatments. Her move to Melbourne represents an exciting new chapter — both professionally and personally — and she has brought her characteristic energy, dedication, and warmth with her.

Erin's approach to dentistry is built on one core belief: visiting the dentist should never be a stressful or scary experience. She creates a calm, reassuring environment for every patient, takes the time to build genuine therapeutic relationships, and ensures that each person feels heard, comfortable, and well-informed about their care before any treatment begins.

She brings a conscientious, thorough approach to every appointment — whether a routine check-up, a filling, or a more complex restorative case — and takes pride in delivering treatment of consistently high quality. Her international training background gives her exposure to a variety of clinical approaches and patient populations, enriching the care she provides.

UK-Trained, Melbourne-Based

Having trained and practised in the United Kingdom, Dr Erin brings a valuable international perspective to the Smile Solutions team. UK dental training is widely respected for its rigorous clinical standards and strong emphasis on evidence-based practice — qualities that Dr Erin carries into every patient interaction.

Since arriving in Melbourne, Dr Erin has fallen in love with the city's incredible café culture. If you have a recommendation for a great brew — or can tell her where to spot a platypus — she'll be delighted!

A Welcoming Environment for Every Patient

Dr Erin is particularly conscious of the experience of patients who feel apprehensive about dental visits. She approaches every appointment with patience, empathy, and clear communication — making sure you understand each step of your treatment and feel genuinely at ease throughout. Her friendly, no-judgment manner makes her a natural fit at Smile Solutions, where patient experience is considered just as important as clinical outcomes.
