Biography

Dr Miranda Hojok is a Melbourne-born and raised dentist who completed her dental training at La Trobe University, graduating with a Bachelor of Health Sciences in Dentistry and a Master of Dentistry. La Trobe's dental programme is one of the most clinically intensive in Australia, combining strong biomedical science training with extensive hands-on patient care.

Since graduating, Dr Miranda has joined the exceptional team at Smile Solutions — Australia's largest single-location private dental practice — where she has access to the full spectrum of dental technology, specialist colleagues and a multidisciplinary team environment that supports outstanding patient outcomes.

Dr Miranda's approach to dentistry is firmly patient-centred. She is known for her warm, genuine personality and for the care and attention she brings to building real relationships with her patients. She believes that the best dental outcomes are achieved when patients feel genuinely heard, understood and at ease — and she works hard to ensure every patient leaves with both a healthy smile and a positive dental experience.

She has a keen interest in the preventative and restorative aspects of dentistry — helping patients maintain their oral health over the long term, and restoring damaged, decayed or discoloured teeth to their best possible function and appearance. Dr Miranda is also a proponent of the latest dental technology, including CEREC CAD/CAM for high-quality same-day restorations, and offers nitrous oxide (happy gas) sedation for patients who experience dental anxiety.

As a regular attendee of continuing education courses, Dr Miranda is committed to lifelong learning and to delivering the very best that modern dentistry can offer to her patients.

Outside of dentistry, you are likely to find Miranda at the beach, watching the footy, off travelling when the opportunity arises, or in the kitchen — she is a self-described massive foodie and loves discovering great restaurants and cooking for friends and family.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is happy gas (nitrous oxide) and is it safe? Nitrous oxide (laughing gas or happy gas) is a mild sedative agent inhaled through a small mask worn over the nose during dental treatment. It produces a relaxed, calm sensation without putting you to sleep, and wears off quickly after the mask is removed. It is widely used in dentistry and is considered very safe for most patients, including children.

What is CEREC and how does it work? CEREC is a digital CAD/CAM system that allows Dr Miranda to scan your tooth, design a ceramic restoration on-screen, mill it in the practice, and fit it — all in one appointment. No messy impressions, no temporary crowns, no waiting weeks for a lab. The results are precise, strong, and aesthetically excellent.

Is Dr Miranda good with nervous patients? Yes. Dr Miranda is known for her warm, gentle approach and takes the time to ensure anxious patients feel truly comfortable. Nitrous oxide (happy gas) is also available to help make the experience as relaxed as possible.
