Biography

A Melbourne local through and through, Dr Miranda Hojok completed both her Bachelor of Health Science (Dentistry) and Master of Dentistry at La Trobe University. She brings that education to Smile Solutions, where she's become a trusted member of the team.

Miranda has a genuine interest in preventative and restorative dentistry, working with adults who want to maintain their oral health and parents looking for someone who'll be gentle with their kids. She takes an evidence-based approach to treatment, which means she stays current with continuing education courses and uses technologies like CEREC CAD/CAM to deliver treatments that actually work.

Her treatment philosophy is straightforward: listen to what you need, then tailor the approach to fit. Patients tend to describe her as warm and easy to talk to, which matters when you're sitting in a dental chair. She's built her practice around creating relationships that last, not just fixing immediate problems. For patients who get anxious about dental work, Miranda offers nitrous oxide sedation (happy gas) to help you get through appointments more comfortably.

Special Interests

- Preventative dentistry - Restorative dentistry - CEREC CAD/CAM technology - Anxiety management (nitrous oxide sedation) - Paediatric and adult dentistry

Miranda's range of interests means she can handle most of what your family needs, from regular check-ups to more complex restorative work. The CEREC CAD/CAM technology she uses allows for same-day ceramic restorations, which saves you from making multiple trips to the practice while still getting quality aesthetic results.

Outside the clinic, Miranda spends time at the beach, watches the footy, and travels when she can. She's also passionate about food and cooking, regularly checking out Melbourne's restaurant scene. Growing up here means she gets the pace of life in Melbourne and how hard it can be to fit dental appointments into an already packed schedule.

If you're looking for a dentist who'll take the time to understand what you need and make the experience as comfortable as possible, you can book a consultation with Dr Miranda Hojok at Smile Solutions.
