Why Choose Smile Solutions for Sleep Dentistry

Dental anxiety stops a lot of people from getting the care they need. Smile Solutions is set up specifically to change that, with a full range of sedation options, all administered by qualified specialist anaesthetists, so you can get through your appointment comfortably and safely.

Your sedation options

Whatever your level of anxiety, there's an option that fits:

- Nitrous oxide (happy gas) — the lightest option, good for patients who just need a little extra reassurance to get through the door - Oral sedation — medication you take before your appointment to help you relax; straightforward and effective - IV sedation — a deeper level of sedation, administered intravenously and monitored throughout by experienced specialists - General anaesthesia — complete unconscious sedation for patients who need it, delivered to a high clinical standard

What sets Smile Solutions apart

The range of options matters, but so does how they're delivered. At Smile Solutions, sedation is administered by specialist anaesthetists, not general dentists, inside a purpose-built clinical facility within the Manchester Unity Building in central Melbourne. It's a dedicated environment designed for patient safety and comfort, not a repurposed dental chair.

The building itself is worth a mention. It's one of Melbourne's most recognised addresses, and the practice sees that as fitting, given its focus on combining solid clinical expertise with a genuine commitment to patient care.

Every procedure, available under sedation

You shouldn't have to pick between being comfortable and getting the treatment you actually need. At Smile Solutions, virtually every procedure can be done under sedation, from a routine clean or check-up through to dental implants, complex oral surgery, and full mouth rehabilitation. Whatever your treatment involves, the team will make sure you're at ease throughout.
